

MMM Beauty: job, page structure and look

<https://www.mmm-beauty.co.uk/>

Tracked as CRO-26. Live site looked at on 2026-09-29.

What this is

A worksheet for deciding how this client's public site should work and look, and why. It replaces the earlier decision PDF, whose recommendations rested on evidence that did not hold up. It recommends nothing. Everything under 'What is on the site today' is what was visible in screenshots, described by eye.

What is different this time

- Three steps, in this order: the job (who is visiting and what they need), the page structure (what leads, where the main action sits), then the seven looks.
- The page layout is now part of the decision. The old rule that section order and button positions must not move is withdrawn (craft CHARACTER.md, 26 September). Keeping the current layout is fine, but it needs a reason too.
- Every reason is in your own words and is about this client's customer. 'Industry standard', 'best practice', 'visitors expect it', 'it looks professional' and 'it is familiar' do not count as reasons.
- Do not look at what other businesses in the same trade do. Take evidence from this client's customers: reviews, enquiries, conversations, what people search for.
- An option must come from something the client has: the logo, premises, paperwork, their trade or their customers. Anything can change, nothing is kept just because it is there.

How to fill it in

- Open in Preview on a Mac, or the Files app on an iPhone. Type into the boxes and tick the tick boxes.
- Where the site shows something marked 'to check', do not treat it as true until it is checked.
- Save the filled copy, attach it to the same Linear issue and move the issue to Done.
- It counts as decided when the job is written, every page listed in Part 2 has all four answers, and at least five of the seven looks have a choice and a reason.

What is on the site today

Pages looked at: Home, Treatments, About, Gallery, Book (Square).

- The logo is a gold and deep-green serif MM with the word BEAUTY under it.
- The site is light: cool off-white and white, with cream at the top. The cookie bar is dark green. It is not a black site.
- The first screen is a full-width looping video: a blurred pink-brown close-up too soft to say what it shows, with the headline over it in thin letter-spaced serif, an italic line, and a mint-green Book Now button.
- Buttons are mint-green gradient pills; cards have thin dark outlines and rounded corners; section headings have a short mint bar beside them.
- The three service cards use bright, generic-looking photos (hands, a face with eyes closed, a facial). The package cards use flat-lay props and a Dermalogica product shot.
- The About page has a real photo of Meghan working on a client, with pills: VTCT certified, Brackley since 2023, Over 300 clients.
- The Gallery shows real nail and brow close-ups. In the screens looked at, the nails sit on light grey, white or skin tones; some have a dark sleeve or dark fabric behind the hand, but none is a black studio setup. Most of the nail set is Christmas themed (snowflakes, reds) though the capture was in late September. The filter offers Nails and Brows only.
- Treatments lists services with photos and a Most Popular badge on Builder Gel Manicure. Booking leaves the site for a Square page, which has Square's own look and a Square cookie prompt.

To check before relying on any of it

- Only gallery screens 1, 2, 3, 5, 7 and 8 of 8 were looked at; screens 4 and 6 were not.
- The Most Popular badge needs booking evidence. The earlier claim that soft-square is the most-booked nail shape is still unsupported.
- The service-card photos look like stock images. Their source is not known.
- The exact disputed picture from the earlier review is still not identified.
- Small boxed characters appear before Nails and Brows in the gallery filter. They may be missing symbols in the capture browser.
- The cookie bar was left open.

Screenshots taken with scripts/visual/capture.mjs and looked at by eye. Descriptions say what was visible on the screen. Font names, hex codes and image ownership were not read from code and are not claimed.

Part 1: the job

Who visits this site and what are they trying to get done? Write about the customer, not about the business or its competitors. Use what you know from real reviews, enquiries and conversations.

Who visits, and what has just happened to make them look?

They want to ...

an action word (find, book, decide, check, get, arrange ...)

what they want to get done. Not 'a trade website' or the trade itself in what situation, under what pressure (today, cheaply, without being talked down to ...)

What has to get done (the practical need)

How they want to feel by the end

How long do they take to decide?

☐ Low: minutes or a day ☐ Considered: days ☐ High: weeks or months

Why that speed (from what customers actually do)

Part 1: the job (continued)

Who do they have to explain or justify the choice to, and what would make them look good or bad?

What worries them before getting in touch? What has gone wrong for them or people they know?

Their own words for the problem and for what they want. Exact quotes, one per line

Where each of those came from (a review, an enquiry, a conversation, a search). Names and dates, not links to other businesses' sites

Part 2: page structure, Home

Decide what this page is for, what leads, and what order it runs in. Keeping today's order is allowed, with a reason.

Page

Home

The one main action a visitor should take on this page (for example: call now, book, send an enquiry)

Where the main action sits (tick all that apply)

- ☐ Header ☐ First screen ☐ After proof or reviews ☐ Middle of page ☐ Bottom of page
☐ Stays on screen

Why it sits there. Say how fast the customer decides, or which worry it answers

The order the sections should run, top to bottom, one per line, each with a few words on why

Section names craft understands: hero, logos, stats, cards, marquee, text, other, cta-band, footer-cta, pricing, testimonials, faq, process, features, team, contact.

What leads (the one thing seen first) and what is deliberately smaller

Part 2: page structure, Treatments

Decide what this page is for, what leads, and what order it runs in. Keeping today's order is allowed, with a reason.
